THE STORM AT ROCKAWAY BEACH.

ROCKAWAY BEACH, L. I., July 31.—Two unknown sailors lying at anchor in Jamaica Bay were capsized. No one was aboard of them.
A large portion of the railing and awning frames of the iron pier was carried away and the structure was otherwise damaged.
The loss will probably amount to $1,000. Mr. and Mrs. Shannon of Brooklyn narrowly escaped being blown from the pier. They were saved with difficulty.
The 7:10 train on the New York, New Haven and Rockaway Railroad was crossing the trestle over Jamaica Bay, when the storm came up and was almost blown from the track. The passengers were demoralized for several hours, and the excitement was intensified by the blowup of an unknown schooner, which had been driven from her anchorage, running between two cars, doing considerable damage. The schooner's bowsprit was broken clean off.
Water was blown over the trestle and into the cars. It was the worst storm ever known here.

DROWNED AT THE HOOK.

THE YACHT SARAH CRAIG CAPSIZED WITH A PLEASURE PARTY ON BOARD.

A Terrible Disaster at Sandy Hook During Last Night's Storm—Six Ladies and One Gentleman Found Watery Graves—Nine Persons Saved—Two Schooners go Down in Jamaica Bay—Damaged by the Storm.

HIGHLAND, N. J., July 31.—Intelligence has been received here that a schooner yacht from Philadelphia upset near the Government dock at Sandy Hook during the storm last evening.
Six ladies and a young man were drowned.
The body of one person was recovered. The others are supposed to be in the cabin of the yacht. Seven of the yacht's party, who were found clinging to the rigging after she capsized, were rescued by a tug.

A message from Sandy Hook gives the following particulars of the disaster there. The name of the yacht was the Sarah Craig. There was a pleasure party on board, bound from Philadelphia for New York. Seven of the party, six ladies and a young man, were drowned. Nine men were saved. The capsized on the point of the Hook.

The names of those lost by the capsizing of the schooner yacht, Sarah Craig, in a thunder-squall last night were:
Miss T. H. Stevens.
Miss M. Stevens and Mrs. Askin, daughters of Mrs. Stevens.
Miss Emma and Miss Bessie Merritt, sisters.
Mr. Chester Clark.

The persons saved are Z. W. Jordan, Alfred Potter, Frank W. Hall, Wm. Burdick, Capt.
Edward Ruland, Mate Chas. Ferguson, Steuard Lewis Bowman, Sam Jones and Wm.
Paris.

Mrs. Stevens' body has been recovered.
The other bodies have been reported missing.
The Government dock and the bodies are being taken out.

There is a schooner, Sarah Craig, of twenty-eight tons burden, built at Patchogue, N. Y., and sailing from that port. This is probably the vessel which capsized.

NEW YORK, LATEST DETAILS.
A large schooner yacht named the Sarah Craig, which was bringing a party of sixteen persons from Philadelphia to New York, was swamped in the terrific gale off Sandy Hook last night. According to latest reports six ladies and one young gentleman were drowned. The schooner yacht was seen off Sandy Hook trying to beat to shore, she was sailing almost under bare poles, and leaped from wave to wave as the wind struck her with a force that was almost phenomenal.
From Sandy Hook, L. I., last night it was that several persons were on board.
Her course was directly for the shore, as though it was the intention of her sailing master to beach. He heard the Government dock, which was a gust of wind came and the vessel seemed to be entirely lifted from the water. She did not right herself quickly enough, water poured into the cabin and she overturned. Although she was exceedingly high, boats were put out, but it could not be reached. Finally the tug appeared, and then it was discovered that nine of the pleasure party which had made no other yacht were clinging to the rigging. They were rescued and brought ashore.

Mrs. Stevens' body has been recovered and more will be got up shortly. It was said the yacht was coming toward the inside of the hook to escape the fury of the wind and the ladies had all gone into the cabin to avoid the rain.
Some of them, feeling nervous, the sailing master went below to reassure them, and just as he reached the deck near the equal struts the yacht and she went over. No one had time to escape from the cabin.

THE LILY-FAT PARTY.
PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—The pleasure party of the Lily-fat yacht, Sarah Craig, left this city on Tuesday, 27th inst., for an eleven days' trip, but Mrs. Stevens, wife of the Atlantic City, Newport and perhaps other places further up the trunk, would have returned to Philadelphia to-day week.
Miss M. Stevens was the book-keeper of the firm of Messrs. Askin, Clark & Co., her sister, was the wife of the late Treasurer of the Union Mutual Aid Association of No. 10 South Second street. The party was a very pleasant trip.
The Misses Merritt lived on North Twelfth street and were in comfortable circumstances, their father having left them some property when he died some time ago. Miss Bessie Merritt was a young lady friend of the Merritts. Young Chester Clark was a telegraph operator.

Damaged by Storm.
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., July 31.—Reports from the surrounding country show that much damage was done by last night's storm. A man named Dorpner, living near Dunham's Corner, was struck by lightning while cutting corn and was killed. His son, who was standing by, was severely injured.

The Rolling Mill Disaster.
COLUMBUS, O., July 31.—There were about thirty-five men engaged in getting the new machinery into position at the rolling mill, and luckily they were working outside the elevator when the storm came. The main structure of the building fell first and crashed through the roof, which gave warning to the men, who had gathered on one side of the building to get out of the rain, which was coming down in torrents. The men who had taken their position at the roof had raised from their position, and a moment later came down with a crash and sent the four men tumbling and brought everything to the ground. A number of men were caught by the falling timbers and held until

THE ANARCHISTS.

Spies' Articles in U. S. Arbeiter Zeitung Read to the Jury.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The anarchists resumed the hearing of their red buttonholes this morning with the exception of Spies, who discarded this one proffered by a female sympathizer. The defendants, Spies, Schwab, Feiden and Fischer, have colorless faces, showing the evident effect of the trial. The young bomb-maker, Ling, is the only one of the cluster on trial who appears to carry himself in an unconcerned manner. The courtroom was crowded as usual. John Deegan, a brother of the murdered officer, Matthias J.
Deegan, was called and testified to seeing the dead body of his brother at the morgue on the morning of May 5. Officer Burns testified to sitting in the patrol wagon with the body of the patrol wagon soon after the explosion of the bomb, and testified to the fact of his death.
This was merely formal testimony. The defense declined to cross-examine.

A State offered in evidence articles which appeared in the Arbeiter-Zeitung just prior to the May massacre, containing the violence which would follow the inauguration of the eight-hour movement. One of the articles declared that no morning should pass without the announcement being published that the carcass of a Pinkerton detective had been found by the roadside. Under date of November 27, 1885, a notice was printed announcing that armed drills would be held every Sunday morning at No. 165 Claybourne avenue to prepare for the revolution on May 1. On the same date the method for fashioning dynamite bombs was outlined. In December, 1885, an article warned workmen not to assemble on May 1 unless armed.

Spies' LITERATURE.
In a later article penned by Spies, he warned all workmen to thoroughly arm themselves and be prepared to fight the police, the Pinkerton detectives and the militia on May 1. On January 2 an article was printed urging that dynamite bombs should be prepared for use against these forces. The defense suggested that the latter was a communication to the paper and that Spies should not be held responsible for the suggestion. Other articles from the pen of Spies were read and published at various times down to May 1. The reading of an editorial signed by Spies directed against a Justice of the Appellate Court and threatening him with death by dynamite, owing to his decision in favor of a railway company as against an injured employee, caused the first wave of excitement among the defendants during the forenoon. The reading of these articles was prolonged long after the usual closing hour of the court. It had been expected, with the prospect that it would prolong the case for the prosecution before the noon adjournment. Without concluding the reading of these articles the court adjourned till 2 p. m.

CLOSING CONTRACTS.

The Street Car Men Decide to Test the Cable System.

A meeting of representative streetcar men was held this morning in the Gay building to discuss the Terry grip for cable cars. There were present Messrs. Maxon, Scullin, Maffei, Walsh, Peper and Johnston.
Boggs & Smith, Becca & Rankin, S. H. Terry, inventor, and W. F.
Niebert, patent owner of the patent, were also present. Another explanation of the workings of the grip was given by Mr.
Terry, and a conclusion was arrived at and papers were drawn up and signed. The street car men decided to furnish money for the experiment, which it is estimated will cost from $10 to $20,000.
A fully equipped cable track will be laid in the old Exchange square, just east of Smith, Becca & Rankin's cable machine shop. It will be built with curves, crossings and switches, and will, to all intents and purposes, be a complete line. The agreement calls for the immediate construction of the short road. The test will be carried on daily, the same as the regular road, during this fall, next winter and through the spring. If by that time the grip is proved to be able to cross other cable lines and will do all also that is claimed for it, it will be adopted. The first line reconstructed will be the Broadway line.
The Franklin avenue, Olive street and Washington avenue will follow and so on until the Seullin lines between the Fourth Street, Benton Bellefontaine lines and the Carondelet company will be without follow. If the inventors and the other companies. The street car men decided to give the public means of rapid transportation at once will best serve their own interests, as it will make it more difficult for outsiders to obtain valuable franchises. The effect of the Cable & Western Line on the Washington Avenue Company has stirred the street railroad men to take prompt action.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

The Widow of Gen. Gordon of England Arrested for Theft.

CHICAGO, July 31.—Some six weeks ago a woman nearly 70 years old went to Mrs.
Whittaker's, at Graceland, and engaged board and lodging for a few days while she was attending to the erection of a monument over a relative buried there. The next morning Mrs.
Whittaker missed $7 from the cash-box and accused her lodger of having taken it. The old lady admitted the theft and restored the money. The police were called in and she was arrested. On trial she gave the following explanation of the case.
She said she was the widow of Gen. Gordon of the British army, and formerly lived in Glasgow, Scotland, and was on her way from San Francisco to New York, where she had relatives, and was going from that point to England. She refused to give any name or addresses of any of her friends or relatives, and the police set her down as a shop-lifter.
The charge was finally changed to disorderly conduct and she was sent to the Bridewell on a $75 fine. It seems she told the truth in regard to herself. Her trunk went to New York and was found by her friends, who, after some difficulty, learned that she was detained in Chicago by some trouble.
Yesterday an attorney received a letter from her son-in-law, Mr. Millwood of New York, asking him to investigate the matter. The attorney came to Lake View, and after explaining matters to the supervisor received from him an order for her release. She was discharged last night and will leave for the East this morning.

Building Permits.

Building permits were to-day granted to Sophia S. Seig to build a $4,000 residence on John avenue between Twentieth and Twenty-first streets.

To St. Louis Box Company to erect a warehouse on Randolph and Jefferson avenues, costing $25,000.

To A. Ellerbrake for a dwelling costing $1,500, on Twenty-second and North Market.

To M. Kiesel for a dwelling costing $2,000, on Michigan street between Haven and Mait.

WHEN RECEIVER THOMPSON'S attention was called to the comment made by the stockholders' committee on the $40,000 mortgage which was found not recorded, he said there was no need of recording it, and furthermore that he had shown it to the committee. In a statement that Mr. Thompson did not show to the committee until it was asked for it, Haussler did not meet with the committee to discuss co-operation which he expected to do so difficult a task as going over the bank's books, and will probably report his sentiments on this question to the stockholders meeting next Monday. There was a similar discussion in producing the $20,000 mortgage.

THE REPORT OF THE STOCKHOLDERS committee of the Provident Savings Bank has been completed and will be submitted Monday. The plan of reopening the bank is not believed to be practically feasible by some of the members of the committee. There is a probability of some of the stockholders forming a pool, with $500,000 of stock, and business.

alm. In that event the stockholders will have considerable to say about the receiver's methods of closing up the business. The accounts were selling on Third street today at 65 cents on the dollar. Unless something not yet made public develops the accounts will be worth 80 cents. The delay now being arranged for will not help to the aid, however.

DIABOLICAL REVENGE.

Church at St. Clair, Pa., Blown up With Dynamite.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 31.—At 3:15 o'clock this morning a tremendous explosion shock of which was directly felt in the city, occurred on the morning of the 20th inst. at the Baptist church, two miles distant. Dynamite had been placed under the Baptist church, wrecking the building and entailing damage to the amount of several hundred dollars. The perpetrators have not been discovered, but the act has been universally regarded as a resurrection of the crusade of the Ku Klux and Order Society, through whose efforts Walker, an old and respected citizen, was recently imprisoned for a technical violation of liquor law and who died in a short time, both being attributed to his imprisonment six months ago to the day of an active member of the society was blown up, and the bad blood between the two acts has been raised over heat by the subsequent events resulting in this outrage.

JOE SHOBEY SHOT IN HIS DOORWAY BY AN UNKNOWN MAN.

An Attempted Assassination at Woodstock in St. Louis County—The Victim Called U.

A mysterious shooting occurred early this morning at Woodstock, on the line of the Wabash Railroad near Ferguson. The victim of the shooting was a colored man named Joe Shobe, who is in the employ of Mr. Ben McCullough, the paying teller at the State Savings Bank. The object of the man who fired the shot was clearly murder, and although Shobe was not dead at the latest reports his death was expected at a late hour this morning. The news of the attempted assassination was spread quickly by the passengers who came into town on the morning train, and the facts so far as could be ascertained from their statements, and from Mr. McCullough himself are about as follows:

At 1:15 o'clock this morning the wife of Shobey was awakened by the voice of a man outside the house calling her husband by name. She awakened him and apologized for the fact and he arose and went to the door to inquire the nature of the man's business at so untimely an hour. Scarcely had he opened the door when he saw the flash of a shot gun and a second later a bullet struck him in the chest, and he was dropping effect over a large part of its surface. Shobey fell in the doorway and his wife, alarmed, hastened to the assistance of Mr. McCullough.

Messrs. Cooch and Oefers go next to Waukesha, Wis., for their summer. Mr. A. Moore Berry dropped in on this week looking rugged after through Michigan.

At last Clifford of Clarksville has come to a 52-inch. He had to yield to the old Thom and Young or lose an ear.

R. E. Belcour is still in hard luck. He has lost his gun.

The Clarksville Club was to have its league July 1. What wiser step than they have decided to take is not known. Any wheelman desirous of touring Indiana and Ohio this summer is requested to send his name to W. M. Brewster, street.

Mr. Brewster the name and address of the cyclist he may know who is not a member of the League or of a club.

One feature of bicycling that has seemed superior to horseback riding is that the wheelman has of late had his car at any station when he may not be pedalling back.
